

Join the Maine Moose Coalition

Help Protect the Future of Maine's Moose

Whether you're a resident, visitor, guide, hunter, business owner, wildlife photographer, or simply someone who values Maine's moose, your voice matters. Individual memberships demonstrate broad public support for responsible moose management. Business memberships demonstrate the economic importance of healthy moose populations to Maine's communities and tourism economy. If you own a business, we encourage you to join as a business, join as individuals, and invite family members, partners, employees, and supporters to join individually. Together, these voices help ensure that decision-makers understand both the public and economic importance of Maine's moose.
